

Format for reports of Parties on implementation of the Convention on the Conservation of Migratory Species of Wild Animals (revision of June 2003)

Reporting format agreed by the Standing Committee at its 26th Meeting (Bonn, June 2003) for mandatory use by Parties, for reports submitted to the Eighth Meeting of the Conference of the Parties (COP8) (Nairobi, 2005).

The questions below combine elements of Resolution 4.1 (Party Reports) adopted by the Fourth Meeting of the Conference of the Parties (Nairobi, June 1994) and Resolution 6.4 (Strategic Plan for the Convention on Migratory Species 2000-2005), adopted by the Sixth Meeting of the Conference of the Parties (Cape Town, November 1999), as well as commitments arising from other operational Resolutions and Recommendations of the Conference of the Parties.

Please refer to the separate instructions on completing the report. Parties are encouraged to respond to all questions, since it cannot be assumed that the absence of a response indicates that no activities taken have place in the current reporting period. Parties are also requested to provide comprehensive answers, including, where appropriate, a summary of activities, information on factors limiting action and details of any assistance required.

Which agency has been primarily responsible for the preparation of this report? Ministry of Nature and the Environment of Mongolia and Institute of Biology, Mongolian Academy of Sciences

II. Appendix I species

1. BIRDS

1.1 General questions on Appendix I bird species

1	Identify the Ministry, agency/department, or organisation responsible for leading actions relating to Appendix I bird species: Ministry of Nature and the Environment, and the Institute of Biology, MAS
2	Is the taking of all Appendix I bird species prohibited by the national implementing legislation cited in Table I(a) (General Information)? <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No If other legislation is relevant, please provide details:
2a	If the taking of Appendix I bird species is prohibited by law, have any exceptions been granted to the prohibition? <input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No If Yes, please provide details (Include the date on which the exception was notified to the CMS Secretariat pursuant to CMS Article III(7)):
3	Identify any obstacles to migration that exist in relation to Appendix I bird species: Habitat reduction due to livestock herding, occupation of water sources by herders, mining companies; poaching
3a	What actions are being undertaken to overcome these obstacles? Establishment of certain Pas, Inclusion of their habitats and nesting areas to International Network Sites (RAMSAR, EAN)
3b	What assistance, if any, does your country require in order to overcome these obstacles? Detailed research on population status, migration routes and conservation of all Appendix I species to identify the conservation priorities
4	What actions have been taken to prevent, reduce or control factors that are endangering or are likely to further endanger bird species, including strictly controlling the introduction of, or controlling or eliminating, already introduced exotic species (Article III(4)(c))? Conservation advertisements among local people
4a	Describe any factors that may limit action being taken in this regard: Poverty and poaching
4b	What assistance, if any, does your country require to overcome these factors? Poverty reduction, habitat restoration, strict antipoaching activities etc
	Notes: Mongolia is one of the most favorable places for migratory birds. Traditionally Mongolians do not shoot most of the bird species in Mongolia and, therefore, many of migratory bird species nest during the summer in Mongolia's lakes, rivers and ponds.  The Mongolian lakes are home to many birds migrating from Siberia to the south in autumn and from the south to the north in spring, and have received special protection. Membership of CMS has brought further opportunities to strengthen conservation measures for these migratory birds. If Mongolia's two neighbours, the Russian Federation and China, join the Convention further collaborative efforts will be taken for the promotion of transboundary protection of migratory species.

Broad research and conservation activities on wild camel has been started from 2003 in Great Gobi National park, the camel's main area of distribution, under GEF/UNDP and Mongolian government fund. The Institute of Biology, MAS is the main implementing agency for research and monitoring of this project. Other resolutions/recommendations:

Other remarks:

The National Government of Mongolia is trying to balance social and economic development with ecosystem protection. It is hoping to avoid the mistakes made by other countries in the past, e.g. raw material extraction to foreign countries, ecologically damaging technologies and disposal of foreign waste should be avoided. Mongolian biological resources have a key role in the maintenance of ecological balance, providing a healthy and safe environment, alleviating poverty and sustaining social and economic development. The protection, restoration and sustainable use of biological resources and captive breeding of endangered species are Government priorities.

Mongolia contains a wide variety of habitats and wildlife, due to its large size and varied ecosystems stretching from the high mountains of Central Asia to the Gobi desert. The population of many plants and animals are decreasing as human settlement has expanded and today some are in danger of extinction.

Fauna diversity is very rich in Mongolia. There are 56 fish species (6 in the Red Book of Mongolia), 10 amphibian species (4 in the Red Book), 22 reptilian species (5 in the Red Book), 427 bird species (30 in the Red Book) and 134 mammalian species (30 in the Red Book). There are 81 species of the Mongolian birds listed in Appendices I and II of CMS, and 12 species of bat.

Threats

The fauna and flora of Mongolia suffer from increasing habitat loss (with some regions already devoid or nearly devoid of large mammals), increasing desertification, erosion in several areas, and several species and subspecies are threatened with extinction. Threats to biodiversity include the impact of mining, deforestation, off-road vehicle use, pollution, rapid human population growth, increasing numbers of livestock, poaching, and the effects of the rapid socio-economic and cultural change that has accompanied Mongolia's transition from communism to democracy.

Migratory ungulate species, which need fresh pasture and open water sources throughout the year, such as the Asiatic wild ass (Equus hemionus) and Mongolian Gazelle (Procapra gutturosa), have been badly effected by human pressure, and competition with livestock for pasture and water.

Appendix II listed species

Mongolia is one of the most favorable places for migratory birds. Traditionally Mongolians do not shoot most of the bird species in Mongolia and, therefore, many migratory bird species nest during the summer in Mongolia's lakes, rivers and ponds.

The Mongolian lakes are home to many birds migrating from Siberia to the south in autumn and from the south to the north in spring, and have received special protection. Membership of CMS has brought further opportunities to strengthen conservation measures for these migratory birds. If Mongolia's two neighbours, the Russian Federation and China, join the Convention further collaborative efforts will be taken for the promotion of trans-boundary protection of migratory species.

Migratory mammalian species, such as the goitered gazelle (Gazella subgutturosa), wild ass (Equus hemionus), Mongolian gazelle (Procapra gutturosa) and saiga antelope (Saiga tatarica), have been always under direct and indirect human pressure. In particular poachers in neighbouring countries, such as China and Russia, try to kill these animals when they cross over the border from Mongolia. Consequently co-operation with Russia and China on transboundary issues is urgently required.

Procapra gutturosa*, White-tailed Gazelle - The CMS Secretariat, with assistance from Mongolia, is planning to develop a Cooperation and Management Plan for Mongolia, the Russian Federation and China as the first step towards protecting this species at the international level. As a result of joint efforts between Russia and Mongolia, 30,000 white-tailed gazelles that migrated to Eastern Siberia survived the harsh winter of 2000-2001.
